MC 166

Extent: 49.05 linear feet

Historical Note: Winthrop C. Durfee was born on April 23, 1858 in Fall River, MA. His parents were Walter Chaloner Durfee and Jane Frances (Alden) Durfee and he had ten siblings. Durfee attended Fall River Public Schools and later completed his education at Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island. Durfee graduated from college in 1878 and returned to Fall River where he became employed at a local cotton mill. In 1881, Durfee married Sylvie Whitney of Pawtucket, Rhode Island. They had three children together; Walter Chaloner Durfee, Philip Sherwood Durfee, and Pauline Elizabeth Durfee. He was Episcopalian and at one time served as the warden of St. John's Church in Jamaica Plain. He was a member of the Episcopalian Club and a committee member of the Diocese who worked toward increasing the salaries of the clergy. Durfee was also able to trace his ancestry back to the first settlement of Plymouth Colony in Massachusetts Bay. Winthrop C. Durfee died on September 19, 1929 at 71 years old in his home located on 1 Dane Street, Jamaica Plain.

In 1881, the recently married Durfee moved from Fall River to Jamaica Plain and began his career in Boston. Durfee worked as a salesman for the St. Denis Dyestuff Company and then for the Thomas Leyland Company. Durfee would later build his own business as an independent Manufacturing Chemist and Consultant as well as achieve recognition as a successful drysalter. Durfee's business, known as The Durfee Dye Business, was one of the last members of the Guild of Drysalters which had been founded in the Middle Ages. Durfee and his employees performed a number of dyeing's under controlled circumstances in order to learn and demonstrate the effects of his chromate mordant with wool dyeing. In his business, Durfee used two types of mordants; tartar and chromate mordant. Durfee promoted his chromate mordant throughout WWI and its consistent use and color results was demonstrated on military uniforms.

Due to Durfee's success in his field he was nicknamed the "Tartar King" by his associates. Durfee was very involved with professional organizations regarding the dye business. His professional associations included the Drysalters Club, an association of chemical and dye dealers in New England and of whom Durfee served as President in 1921. Others included the Engineers Club of Boston, The American Chemical Society, of which he was a councilor of the Northeastern section between 1919 and 1929, and he was a founding member and treasurer of the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists in 1921. Durfee's offices were located at 516 Atlantic Avenue, Boston, MA.
